THE DROWNING BARK.

BY COUSIN.

Hark to the deep-toned thunder rolling
O'er the troubled, briny wave!
Hark to the clashing tempest tolling
Funeral knells o'er the seaman's grave!

Hark! the low, trembling winds that soften
Owh the approach of a deadlier calm;
Calm for sailor's coral coffin—
Calm to despair that shall know no balm.

Louder the storm-gods fearfut whisper!
Dark is the frown on Neptune's brow;
Darker the boding evening vesper,—
Shricking the petrel mocks us now.

List! the 'minute gun' sadly booming
Tells the storm of Hope's flickering spark
Loud as the signal, the tempest's dooming
Voice is loud o'er the helpless bark.

Look, kind Heaven, on the sailor's crying,—
Give him faith in thy home of rest;
Hear, through the trembling tempest, sighing
For home's safety the seaman's quest.

Hear through the muttering storm abating
That shrill cry of a joyful breast!—
Sail-O! sail-O! see her waiting!
Quick comes the signal of distress!

Aye, she comes? her white sails wafting
Joy to each careworn, sinking soul;
Swift to the warmth of our fire-sides passing—
We're safe from the storms dark, billowy rolls?

PERILOUS BALLOON ASCENSION AT ERIE.

By a special dispatch from Erie we learn that day before yesterday Professor Lynn, the æronaut, who resides in Erie, and is one of the editors of the Dispatch, made his ascension from that city, accompanied by B. A. Baldwin, Esq., who is extensively engaged in the drug business in Erie. The afternoon was fine, and the ascension was witnessed by a delighted multitude, comprising most of the citizens of the town, besides numbers of people from the country, who were attracted thither by the announcement of the ascension. The wind seemed favorable for a safe and agreeable voyage on the broad highway which leads to the stars, but when they had reached the altitude of about one mile they struck a current of air which bore them directly over Lake Erie, to the great alarm of their numerous friends, who were anxiously watching their progress through spy glasses and telescopes, from the housetops and other elevated positions. After a time the balloon was found to descend rapidly, and in a few moments to the horror of those who were breathlessly observing it from the city, plunged swiftly into the waters of the lake full five miles from the shore!—The excitement became very intense as the intelligence of the occurrence ran like wildfire through the town, and the immediate friends of the party were filled with the direst alarm for their safety. Even if they had not been instantly drowned their position was one of the extremest perils—five miles from shore, and only supported by a frail willow basket which constituted their car. Numbers rushed at once to the docks and a tug being in readiness, proceeded to their rescue. Our correspondent represents the excitement which prevailed during this time to be of the most intense description. Fortunately for the æronauts, the New York and Erie propeller Jefferson which lies between Cleveland and Dunkrik, came along at the time, and observing the decent of the balloon, rescued them from their perilous position. They were standing in the basket up to their middle in water hanging on to the netting over their heads. The tug arriving soon after brought them safely to Erie, where they were received with every demonstration of joy. The sudden descent, which came so near resulting fatally, was caused by a defect in the arrangement of the valve. The professor, whose ardor for aerial voyages was not at all dampened by his cold bath in Lake Erie, announces his intention of trying it again soon.

GEN. SCOTT AND LOUIS NAPOLEON.—It is reported in New York that Gen. Scott has made a bet of 500 bottles of champaign that Louis Napoleon will never return to Paris.

TERRIFIC FIGHT WITH A RATTLESNAKE.

We have hitherto supposed the day long since passed for chronicling a big snake fight in the vicinity of the Central City, but such it appears is not the case, from a scene which recently transpired within a short drive from the court-house. Some of the older residents will remember a building which formerly stood on Prospect Hill, about six miles distant from Peoria, and which was destroyed some seven or eight years since. During the past season another house was erected near the same location, and all that has remained as relics of the old hotel was a partially filled excavation for a cellar and two well-preserved brick cisterns, which had been kept covered up. Last week the proprietor of the place, while busy with his wife in preparing their summer flower garden, found himself in the want of a few bricks for the edge of the walks. Remembering the cisterns, he uncovered one of them, and finding it dry at the bottom, and only about six feet in depth, he jumped in, and commenced throwing out some of the best brick he could pick from the walls. It seems there was a piece of plank with one end partially imbedded in the earth that somewhat incommoded him, so seizing, with some exertion he pulled it out and threw it to the top. What was his horror and surprise at the next moment to find that he had unearthed an enormous rattlesnake, and himself without a weapon in his hand. As the cistern was round, and only five feet in diameter, he oculd not jump out and the snake, bristling with anger and rattling defiance, was ready for battle. His screams brought his wife to the scene, but she was so overcome with fright that she became powerless to render any assistance. The snake in the meantime had commenced the fight, making repeated springs at him, but fortunately he managed on each occasion to hit him upon the head with his boot without receiving a bite, the snake all the time becoming more defiant and enraged. During the whole scene, which lasted several minutes, the man did not lose his presence of mind, but watching his chance made several frantic efforts to jump bodily from this seemingly pit of destruction. At the last trial he fortunately grasped a brick, which gave way with him, and remained in his hand as he again stood fronting his hissing enemy. After a few more kicks, and watching his opportunity, he threw it, making probably one of the best shots on record, for it struck the snake on the head, and between the one sent and the wall he became a 'pretty well used up sarpint.' Weak and exhausted, our hero, by the assistance of his wife, was enabled to climb from the pit, but when once more upon the earth he fainted away, and it was some time before he could be recovered. For several succeeding days he was quite unwell. The snake was afterwards taken from the cistern, when it was found to measure seven feet in length, and contained thirteen rattles. The latter have been preserved, and are placed in Shoaff's Museum for exhibition.—Peoria (Ill.) Transcript.

WHAT IS WIT?

The term 'wit,' in its oldest signification, generally implies rationality, and so we understand it in its derivations 'to wit,' (to know,) 'half-witted,' 'witless,' 'witling,' &c. In the time of Dryden it was expressed fancy, genius, aptitude. Thus the famous couplet—

Great wits do madness surely are allied,
And thin partitions to their bounds divide, is almost an amplification of that 'fine frenzy' which Shakspeare has delineated, and 'wit' in this sense is merely a synonym of imagination. Locke, who was a contemporary of Dyrden, defines wit as lying most in the assemblage of ideas, and putting those together with quickness and variety, wherein can be found any resemblance or congruity, thereby to make up pleasant pictures and agreeable visions in the fancy.

The definition of wit he places in opposition to judgment, which he says, 'lies quite on the other side,' in carefully separating one idea from another, where can be found the least difference, thereby to avoid being misled by similitude and affinity, to take one thing for another.

Addison quotes this passage in the Spectator and says: 'This is about, I think, the best and most philosophical account of wit I ever met with. I shall only add to it, by way of explanation, that every resemblance of ideas is not what we call wit, unless it be such a one as gives delight and surprise to the reader. These two last properties seem essential to wit, more particularly the last of them.'

To come down still later, Dugald Stuart endorses Locke, with this addition, that wit implies a power of calling up at leisure the ideas which it combines, and Lord Kames denominates wit as a quality of certain thoughts and expressions, and adds: 'The term is never applied to an action or passion, and as little to an external object.'

JUSTICE TO EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE.

The Amoskeag Veterans, who, it will be remembered, declined to participate in the reception of General Pierce on his visit to New Hampshire in 1856, have repented of their bad manners. The Veterans are not the only body of men in the country who are rendering eleventh-hour justice to the late President. Throughout the whole country, and among men of all parties, a reaction has taken place which is in the highest degree complimentary to the official services and private worth of Gen. Pierce. At a late meeting of the Veterans the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas some unpleasant feeling exists among members of our battalion relative to our procedure upon the occasion of the visit of President Franklin Pierce to his home in 1856; and whereas said visit occurred at time of extraordinary political excitement; therefore

Resolved, That we, as Veterans, on that occasion did not do justice to ourselves or to President Pierce, for whom, as well as for the office he then held, we all bear the highest personal regard; and we further

Resolve, That we will, if occasion is ever given, endeavor to make some fitting return for the high hospitalities we have heretofore received at his hands.

Resolved, That however unwarily we may have been drawn into a political excitement heretofore, hereafter it shall be our purpose and our pleasure never to recognize or know parties, political or religious, among the members of the Amoskeag Veterans.

An eminent lawyer of Sacramento, Judge R——, attends the courts of Calaveras county, and while instructing in legal lore, often, when occasion requires, pours forth expressions of deepest pathos. On a late trial the homestead of his client was in litigation. To the jury he fervently spoke of the beauties of the homestead law. 'Gentlemen,' says he, 'the Judge in deciding upon a point of evidence, used the word 'dedicate.' Dedicate! what hallowed feelings are engendered by that word! It is to holy purposes only we dedicate. We dedicate places of worship, and where works of charity are done; the children of Israel in the wilderness dedicated the ark to the living God; happily do our laws dedicate a home for the wife and children; by these laws a homestead is dedicated to the household gods!'

After the trial the client was called upon to pay the fee, and having no money, Judge R—— asked as a security, that a mortgage, signed by the wife, be given him upon the property in question. 'No,' says the client, 'that property must not go into the hands of the lawyers; it is dedicated to the household gods!'

Man passes his life in reasoning on the past, in complaining of the present, and trembling for the future.

STARTLING MYSTERY.

Seven Bodies floating in the River.

Last Thursday afternoon as a fisherman was cruising in Long Island Sound, directly opposite Stony Island, or Port Morris, and not far from Hell Gate, his attention was attracted by a singular box floating in the water. He immediately approached it, and fastened it to his boat, towed it to shore at Port Morris, on the property of Gouverneur Morris, a short distance above Harlem. Here the mysterious box was opened, and, to the horror of those present, was found to contain no less than seven dead bodies packed in lime and shavings. On further examination the bodies were found to be those of an elderly gentleman and lady, a young gentleman and lady, a little girl, apparently about six years old, and a boy of about four years old. There was also a colored man. The bodies were packed away very tightly, and to enable them to be crammed into the box, the head of the negro had been cut off and stowed near his feet, and the legs of the elderly man were bent back at the knees. Word was immediately conveyed to Coroner Benjamin B. Valentine, of West Farms, who hastened to the spot and held an inquest, but no evidence could be adduced calculated to throw light upon the fearful mystery.

BEAUTIFUL ALLEGORY.

Mr. Crittenden was engaged in defending a man who had been indicted for a capital offence. After an elaborate and powerful defence, he closed his effort by the following striking and beautiful allegory:

'When God, in his eternal counsel, conceived the thought of man's creation, he called to him the three Ministers who wait constantly upon his throne—Justice, Truth and Mercy; and thus addressed them:—'Shall we make man?' Then said Justice, 'O God, make him not; for he will trample upon thy laws.' Truth made answer also, 'O God, make him not; for he will pollute thy sanctuaries.' But Mercy, dropping upon her knees, and looking up through her tears, exclaimed, 'O God! make him; I will watch over him with my care through all the dark paths which he may have to tread.' Then God made man, and said to him, 'O man! thou art the child of Mercy; go and deal with thy brother.'

The jury, when he finished, were drowned in tears, and against evidence, and what must have been their own convictions, brought in a speedy verdict of not guilty.

POPPING THE QUESTION.—One evenin,' as I was settin' by Hetty, and had worked myself up to the sticking pint, sez I, 'Hetty, if a feller should ask you to marry him, what wud you say?' Then she laughed and sez she, 'that would depend on who asked me.' Then sez I, 'suppose it was Ned Willis?' 'Sez she, 'I'd tell Ned Willis, but not you.' That kinder staggered me. But I was too cute to lose the opportunity, and so sez I agin, 'Suppose it was me?' And then you ought to have seen her put up her lip, and sez she, 'I don't take no supposes.' Well, now, you see there was nothin' for me to do but touch the gun off. So bang it went. Sez I, 'Lor Hetty, its me. Won't you say yes?' And then there was such a hulla-balloo in my head. I don't 'zacly know what tuk place, but I thought I heerd a 'yes' somewhere out of the skirmish.

THE SMASH COMING.—The Millerites are considerably encouraged by late signs, and prophesy the speedy end of this sphere, with renewed vehemence. The 'wars and rumors of wars' about which the newspaper editors and money brokers are so much agitated just now, are held up as evidences of the approaching catastrophe. Then again on Thursday an ominous and odd looking ring was observed around the sun. On Friday evening the sun looked flushed in the face and it disappeared in the West, and all night the moon was blood red, an awful and alarming phenomenon. Accounts of terrible earthquakes in all parts of the world, reach us by every arrival. We do not wish to alarm anybody. We merely state the fact that the Jersey Second Adventists declare they do not desire any better symptoms of the smash than these.

A SECOND 'MARTHA WASHINGTON' CASE.—A person in Cincinnati, Ohio, recently shipped on the steamer Susquehanna, for New Orleans, La., nine cases, said to be of cigars, valued at $6,000, which the consignee at the latter city was instructed to have insured, and to pay the insurance money, in case of the goods being destroyed or lost, to certain parties in New Orleans. The steamer, after touching at New Albany, Ind., was discovered to be on fire, by prompt action, the fire was extinguished. A train of combustibles was found leading to the cases of segars, which, on being opened, were found to contain nothing but chips and shavings. The shipper had been seen in the immediate vicinity, a few moments before the fire was discovered.

MUSIC DEATH ON A CALF.—The Chester Journal, published in a South Carolina town, tells this calf-story.

A QUEER OCCURRENCE.—A queer incident occurred in this place during the Odd Fellows' celebration. It seems there was a calf, some two months old, confined to a lot close to the Methodist Church, and when Captain Lucas' brass band commenced to play one of those soul-stirring airs which always arouses to the highest pitch the feelings and passions of the human soul, the calf became intensely excited, and began to dance and leap about, and so continued to do as long as the music was kept up, and finally it became, as it were, frienzied by excitement, and after making one or two tremendous bounds it fell and died instantly, without a struggle.

☞ A pin has as much head as a good many authors, and a great deal more point.

A HUMBUGGED MAYOR.

The late Mayor of Nebraska City says, in a letter to a friend, dated St. Vrain's Creek, Rocky Mountains, January 19:

'If you have any confidence in my judgment, and act on my advice, you will immediately abandon the idea of coming out here, unless some other discoveries are made. My impression of the mines is, they are all humbug; where we are wintering, we have found the best quality of gold that has been discovered, and cannot make one dollar per day. We were quite surprised a few days since when we read the golden accounts in the Missouri papers of what the miners are doing out here. I pronounced them a pack of lies, written by a set of petty, one-horse-town speculators, and calculated to ruin many a poor fool, beside your humble servant.'

A PICTURE OF LIFE.—There is a picture in the following, that eager pursuers after wealth or high position, may ponder over with benefit.—

We often see an old weather-beaten man, who never had any success in his life, who always knew more, and accomplished less than his associates, who took the quartz and the enterprise, while they took the gold; yet, in old age, he is the happier man. He has a sun of hope and they of despite and greed; and amidst all his misfortunes, and these mysterious providence, he had that within which rose up and carried his head above all troubles, and bore him up like the old ark upon the deluge.

A MONSTER STEAMER.—An iron steamship was launched at Wilmington, Delaware, on Thursday last. The ship is 234 feet long, 35 feet beam, and 18 depth of hold. She is called the New York, was built for Commodore Vanderbuilt, and is to be fitted up in the very best manner possible. The New York is said to be the largest iron ship ever built in the U. S. As soon as the launch was over, the same parties laid the keel of an iron steamship, to be 210 feet long, for the Merchants' Transportation Line, between Baltimore and Boston.

A GOOD ARGUMENT.—In a time of much religious excitement and consequent discussion, an honest Dutch farmer on the Mohawk was asked his opinion as to which denomination of Christians were on the right way to Heaven. 'Vell, den,' said he, 'ven we pride our wheat to Albany, some say this road is the best, and some say dat—but it don't make much difference which road we take, for ven we get dere dey never as us vich vey we come—and it's none of their piziness—if our wheat is good.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—The Savannah Republican says:

'Philip McNulty, a traveling agent for a patent bedstead, hailing from Ohio, was detected last week in an attempt to decoy certain slaves of Covington to a free State. The citizens of that place rid themselves of the scamp by shearing his locks, applying a thick coat of printer's ink to his person, and then riding him on a rail to the depot, where he was allowed to depart.—Served him exactly right, only a good cowhiding might have been added.

In the first place, make up your mind to accomplish whatever you undertake; decide upon some particular employment and persevere in it. All difficulties are overcome by diligence and assiduity. Be not afraid to work with your own hands, and diligently, too. Attend to your own business, and never trust it to another.—Treat every one with respect and civility. Everything is gained and nothing is lost by civility.

IMPROVEMENT OF TIME.—One of the hours wasted each day on trifles or indolence, saved, and daily devoted to improvement, is enough to make an ignorant man wise in ten years—to provide the luxury of intelligence to a mind torpid from lack of thought—to brighten up and strengthen faculties perishing with rust—to make life a faithful field, and death a harvest of glorious deeds.—Franklin.

HEIGHT OF EDIFICES.—The highest edifices in the world are the following:

The Pyramid of Gisob, Egypt, feet,	543
Cathedral at Cologne,	501
Minister at Ulm,	481
Cathedral at Antwerp,	467
Minister at Strasbourg,	466
Pyramid at Cheops, Egypt,	462
St. Stephen's Church, Vienna;	442
St. Peter's, Rome.	430

☞ A wag was one day speaking of two of his acquaintances who had gone West where the new comers were usually attacked with the ague, and said he, 'Neither of those two men will ever be afflicted.' 'Why not?' enquired a bystander. 'Because,' said he, 'one of them is too lazy to shake, and the other won't shake unless he gets pay for it.'

DEATH OF A LADY FROM JOY.—The English papers report the death of Mrs. Young, a lady of high social position, who died under the excitement produced by receiving the joyful intelligence of the election of her nephew to the House of Commons.

☞ Some of the papers are talking of the 'Decline of Mormonism.' It may be declining in Utah, but if we understand the nature of the 'institution,' it never flourished so vigorously in Boston.

☞ 'So,' said a young gentleman to a beautiful young lady, at a party in Arkansas, 'you won't take any of the sardines?' 'No,' said she, 'but I'll take some of the greased minners.'

EXTRAVAGANCE—CORRUPTION.

The 'Opposition" without the declaration of a principle upon which to go before the people, without developing a single idea bearing upon the administration of government, calculate upon the ignorance and stupidity of the masses to an extent that leads them to risk the chances of success upon the senseless and, baseless charge of extravagances and corruption against the administration and the Democratic party.

They meet in Convention, and, in violation of the usage of their party under its various aliases, refuse to avow distinctly and explicitly the position which they occupy upon any of the great measures incorporated in the administrative policy of the government by the Democracy, and content themselves with putting forth an accusation of extravagance and corruption, thus expecting to blind the honest and patriotic voters of the country to their real intentions, and to dupe and gull them by appeals to their passions and prejudices.—They dare not openly attack any single cardinal principle of the Democratic party; they dare not tell the people that they are opposed to a tariff for revenue and favor one for protection; they dare not proclaim their advocacy of a mammoth monied corporation for the transaction of the financial concerns of the country, and their antagonism to the independent treasury; they dare not come out again as the supporters of the oft rejected system of a distribution of the public lands or the sales thereof, and against the preservation of those lands for the ordinary wants of the country; they dare not avow their adherence to any one point in the old federal creed, or declare their opposition to any one laid down by the Democracy. To do so would insure, to them, an overwhelming defeat, and the past looms up too vividly before them to justify the attempt. Upon these measures they have gone before the country and have received the unmistakable condemnation of an enlightened people. Their love of the spoils, and hankering after the glittering prize of power and place have lost none of its intensity by the repulses which it has received, but rather has it been rendered more acute, by being so frequently disappointed. Once more is the attempt to be made to grasp the much coveted prize, and the battle cry is to be 'Extravagance and Corruption.' And this by a party that has, whenever an opportunity offered, driven its arms to the very shoulders into the public treasury, and loaded itself with public plunder. This charge is made by a party whose very existence has depended upon fraud and deception, and has recorded its rottenness and corruption.

Extravagance and corruption! Shades of Galphin and Gardiner, come forth and shame these shameless Southern accusers into something like silence! But that is impossible; as well try to change the course of the earth's revolutions, or drain the ocean with a tea spoon, as to expect these hardened political sinners to blush for their evil ideas.

Does it become a party, with such a record as the 'Opposition' has, to ever hint at swindling in others? Does it forget the Gardiner swindle, under the administration of Millard Fillmore? does it forget that it was reserved for the Democratic party, after its accession to power, to rip up the whole matter of the Gardiner fraud, and that by so doing, it saved to the government two hundred thousand dollars of the money out of which it had been swindled? Does it forget the Galphin fraud? No, but it never attempts to justify it by the evidence of Mr. Toombs; and we will, when necessary, substantiate it by evidence higher in know nothing estimation than Toombs or any other democrat in the country. We will bring forward the testimony of one Andrew J. Donelson, the Know Nothing candidate for the Vice Presidency in 1856, to prove all and more than we charge. A pretty set of fellows, truly, to talk about corruption in others, when their career has been nothing but a system of plunder, trickery, and deception from first to last. But is their charge against the Democratic party just or well founded?—Not a bit of it, and this they know by the manner in which they treat the question.

But this is a war that can be carried into Africa, and it shall be done before the end of this campaign. The record of the 34th Congress, with its Know Nothing clerk, is before us, and our opponents shall have the full benefit of it. We shall then see where the corruption lies, and whether these opposition gentlemen, the trumpetors of their own honesty, are worthy of being trusted by the people.

OPPOSITION PLATFORM.

As a part of the political history of this District, we desire to put upon record the platform laid down by the Opposition at their Congressional Convention lately held at Winton. As a matter of course, the subject of a platform was freely discussed, and the usual formalities gone through with—so we have been informed by persons who were present. Well, the mountain was in labor, and here is the pitiful little mouse to which it gave birth as a platform:

Resolved, That the corruption, frauds extravagances, tyrannical proscription and mal-administration of the affairs of the General Government, by the party now in power, have been so enormous and glaring, and so entirely unjustifiable and abominable as to call upon all good men and patriots of the first Congressional District of North Carolina and everywhere, to unite together, and use all proper efforts to expel them from power, and to put in their places honest and better men.

There is the Opposition platform in all its length and breadth—in all its magnificent and grand proportions! Claiming no virtue for themselves, the Opposition rely solely on Democratic misdeeds for their success. Asserting no principles themselves, they hope to obtain the spoils of office by blackguarding the Democracy.—And why is it that they asserted no principles? Heretofore, they have been in the habit of adopting strings of resolutions as long as the moral law. Why are they silent as to principles now? We think the answer is plain. They have been whipped upon their platforms, and knocked off of their platforms so often, that they have no idea of risking another contest in that shape.—They have thrown away their platform of principles—they have no principles.—They fight for plunder; and, failing by fair means, they are willing to succeed by foul means. They practice upon the Quakers advice to his son—'My son, get money—get it honestly if thee can, but get money.' The opposition have tried to get power upon principle, (some time ago,) and now they are trying it without principle.

Like the Kangaroo, the chief strength of this contemptible little resolution is in its tail. The Opposition want to expel the Democrats from 'power, and put in their places honest and better men.' There is the secret! They want the 'places' now filled by the Democrats! Well, they have been long wanting these same places—and, if generally disappointed, they are determined still to hope.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast,
They never are but always to be blest."

STRANGE.

The Know Nothing party declared at its Council in Philadelphia that the Whig party was rotten and corrupt. Those of their former political associates who would not unite with them, but attached themselves to the Democracy, were said to be the impure material which had corrupted the whole Whig party; yet they were abused as renegades, coaxed to come back into the culvert, and now, appeal after appeal is constantly being made to them to once more unite themselves to the old Whig party. Well, we are not surprised at this. These know nothings know their own 'corruption,' and if they believe what they say of others, they also know that we are equally as good as themselves, and hence their willingness to associate with them. Our opinion is that they know them to be better men, and are anxious to get in good company, for the purpose of improving their reputation—which is bad enough in all conscience.

AN APOLOGY.—We were not able to issue the Pioneer on publication day last week, and we get it out at a late hour to-day.—This we regret, and we would inform our friends that we are trying to make some arrangement by which the force in our office may be increased, and as a matter of course to bring out our paper on Tuesdays. We are determined to give Oppositionism many "rips" during this canvass, and all we ask is that you will be patient, friends. As an act of justice to Uncle Sam's agents, the postmasters, we would state that, should any of our subscribers complain because they did not receive the paper by the mails which usually carry it to them, that the Pioneer was mailed a day later last week than we generally mail it.

AN AMERICAN ENGINEER IN THE AUSTRIAN SERVICE.—It is well known that Austria has of late years been strengthening her fortifications in her Italian possessions. One of the most important has been constructed under the superintendence of an American, Mr. Hamilton E. Towle, who graduated at the Lawrence Scientific School, connected with Harvard University. Some three years ago, he went to Austria, for the purpose of erecting extensive fortifications at Pola, on the Adriatic, about ninety miles south of Trieste. The works were nearly completed at the last accounts, and he hoped soon to be able to return to his country, though he expressed some fears that the French would blockade Pola, and thus his return be prevented.

[Correspondence of the Pioneer.]

WELDON, N. C., June 9th, 1859.

Since I wrote you I have "trotted around" pretty smartly, having been up to the Montgomery White Sopbur Springs and "all intermediate points."

The Montgomery White I found just opening, and being put in the very best sort of condition for the comfortable accommodation of one thousand guests, or more. This is one of the most pleasant and genteel places in the whole Spring Region of Virginia. In fact, according to my notion this, the Sweet and Salt are the most pleasant places in the Mountains. From the Montgomery White to the Salt there is a new Turnpike road just completed, and a daily line of Stages will run through the entire season between these two places, so that a person may leave the Montgomery White after breakfast, dine at the celebrated Salt Pond, and reaching the Salt Sulphur the same evening, remain all night or go on to the old White or Sweet.—There will be also a number of extra Stages at the Montgomery White sufficient to accommodate private parties who may wish to travel fast or slow. The Montgomery White being reached from this region without any staging, will be a convenient diverging point for those who wish to visit other places—and there is no more pleasant railway travelling than these from this place or Petersburg to the Montgomery White. Go and try it.

On Monday last, President Buchanan and Secretary Thompson were here on their return to Washington. "Old Buck" is a hale, hearty looking old gent, and a man of decided good taste, for I saw him kiss one of Hertford's sweetest daughters while he was here. Mr. Thompson is one of the most pleasant gentlemen I have ever known. He must be one of the most popular members of the Cabinet, for he enjoys the peculiar faculty of making friends wherever he goes.

Dr. Shaw and Col. Smith met at Jackson on Monday, and although I was not there, I learned enough to satisfy me that the latter might at the close of the discussion have sung with an excellent grace that beautiful little ditty the chorus of which is, 'Oh, I'm a used up man' 'Oh, I'm a used up man,' &c.

Our champion acquitted himself nobly, and to the entire satisfaction of his friends. He took occassion to give Rayner a passing lick which was a pretty heavy one.

All goes on right in this region and we will I think do as well at least as heretofore.

As I have to go to Northampton court to-day, this must suffice.

RIP SLAP.

[For the Democratic Pioneer.]

MR. EDITOR:—In the issue of June 4th, The State says: 'when a person who has heretofore acted with the Democratic Party in Currituck, avows a determination to support the Opposition candidate, they speak of serving notices on him to leave the County." Such an allegation would be unworthy of notice, were it not to show to the State, and a few of its clamoring advocates, the probable cause of such a libel. We have no one acting with the Democratic Party, avowing any such determination, save a few political turn-coats, who have been disappointed in their pecuniary aspirations. No doubt the Editor's informant would be glad if such a thing were done.—A few of these disaffected characters think they have large claims upon the Democratic Party, and because they are not sustained in all they say, or given an office when asked for, they leave forthwith, and spare no effort to put forth such libels as the above. The Editors are not aware that some of them after having once belonged to the old Whig party, were more denunciatory of that than they possibly can be to the Democratic. It is quite probable Mr. Smith, two years ago, had not a more apparently bitter enemy than the Democratic party has now. Such, sir, I have no doubt, is the political character of the Editors, informant. What has brought about this re-action? His coffers have not been filled, he has no office, and lo! a change comes o'er the spirit of his dream,

MYSTERIOUS CASE.—Mrs. Halstead, formerly Fanny Dean, a popular actress in New York, is missing. Henry Halstead, her husband, has been arrested. He detected her writing a letter to a contractor in Brooklyn, a few days since, and became furious at the discovery. A body found floating near Fort Hamilton, Sunday, is supposed to be hers. The New York papers publish the following description of it:

The lady seems to have been between 18 and 20 years of age, dark complexion, auburn hair and blue eyes, about 5 feet 2 inches high, had on a black silk dress with flounces, pending with lace from the skirt, a white and black straw bonnet, lace under sleeves, black barege shawl. Canton flannel petticoat, white drawers, hoops, and white under skirt, white stockings and India rubber gaiters, laced in front; and a gold shawl-pin, around her neck a gold chain, and locket containing two likenesses, which seem to be of the same gentleman, one representing him with moustaches, and one without; had cameo earrings, on the wedding finger three rings, the first plain gold, the second black enameled diamond, and the third a diamond surrounded by six pearls; and on the little finger of the left hand a plain gold ring. Nothing whatever is known of her or of the manner of her death.

TO THE ED. OF THE DEMOCRATIC PIONEER.

DEAR SIR:—I see in the last issue of your paper, my name appearing in a "correction" of the proceedings of the Edenton Convention as one of the Canvassers for Pasquotank County.

While I yield a willing support to Dr. Shaw, the nominee of that Convention, yet I am compelled to decline acting in that capacity.

The course of study in which I am now engaged, to obtain Superior Court License at the next December Term of the Supreme Court, will be a sufficient reason for my declining.

Respectfully yours. J. L. BALL.
E. City, June 11th, 1859.

WESTWARD THE STAR OF EMPIRE.—Various estimates have lately been made as to the present population of San Francisco. They vary between 60,000 and 90,000, and a few place the number as high as 100,000. Buildings are going up very fast, and it is quite likely the census to be taken next year (1860) will surprise the people in other parts of the Union. The Iowa State Reporter estimates the present population of Iowa at not less than 800,000, and thinks the next census will show fully one million.

THE DISASTER TO THE EDINBURG.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The following additional particulars in relation to the collision of the steamship Edinburg with an iceberg have been received:

The iceberg was first discovered directly ahead the ship being in lat. 47° 40' long. 48° 20'. The helm was put hard-a-port, and she passed close alongside without touching the part above water, but struck under water a little abaft her port bow, and stove in one of her forward plates. The engines were stopped and backed, but the ship had passed the iceberg before her way was stopped. The two foremost compartments filled almost immediately with water. The pumps were quickly set going, and sails and bedding lowered over into the boats. All the male passengers assisted the crew in working the pumps and bailing. There was a dense fog all day Monday and Monday night, with rain, wind fresh, but sea smooth. At noon of Tuesday an observation was taken for the first time for three days, and the ship was found to be in lat. 47° 41' N., long, 50° 29' W.; distance from St. Johns, 47 miles. At — o'clock made the land, all hands working vigorously at the pumps, and bailing to keep the ship from sinking. The water was only kept from flowing into the other compartments by their incessant labor.—The passengers speak in the highest terms of Captain Cummings' conduct throughout. Every preparation was made, even to preparing the small boats and providing them with provisions, clothing, &c. The different boats were distributed, and lists of the male passengers were also carefully prepared. The lady passengers sat up all night, ready dressed to embark. By 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, a number of the male passengers had become exhausted, and yet the severe labor imposed upon them was continued until she reached port. All the passengers and crew are safe.

The captain speaks of the passengers as having behaved with the utmost coolness, and laboring unremittingly for thirty hours. The extent of the damage is not yet ascertained, but the ship will probably have to discharge her cargo to undergo repairs.

THE CANVASS.

Activity, vigilance, industry, must be the maxims of the canvass now fully opened in this District. It will be entered upon by our antagonists with all the eagerness of starving men grasping after loaves and fishes. It will be conducted bitterly—by attempts at intimidation, and doubtless by menaces of violence. We trust, however, that no Democrat will allow himself to be disheartened, or to leave any effort unemployed to swell our candidate's majority. We must redeem the District from the bondage of Know Nothingism and Whiggery this year, and do it permanently, for all time to come. Organize, then, Democrats, at once, in every county in the District. Appoint your meetings, and call upon your canvassers to address the people. Indulge in no dangerous delay. The time is short, and THERE IS WORK TO BE DONE!

Murfreesboro' Citizen.

THE PRESIDENT'S AGE.—Mr. Buchanan will be nearly seventy years of age when he leaves the Presidency in 1861. His birthday is on the 22d of April. Mr. Buchanan will thus be a little older than was General Jackson when his second term expired, and older, by more than five years, than was General Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe or John Quincy Adams; by twelve years than Martin Van Buren; and upwards of fifteen years than John Tyler, James K. Polk, Millard Fillmore and Franklin Pierce at the termination of their political life.

☞ The State of June 4th enquires if the Convention adopted the resolutions introduced by Messrs Simmons and Moore, endorsing Dr. Shaw and the Administration. We would state for the benefit of the paper aforesaid that both of the resolutions were agreed to in the committee room; and the committee, deeming endorsement of the acts of particular men no part of a platform proper, the above named gentlemen were requested to introduce the resolutions separate from the platform itself; and we would further state for the benefit of our contemporary that both resolutions passed without a dissenting voice amid thunders of applause.—Murfreesboro' Citizen.

TWO DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

QUEBEC, June 11.—The screw steamship North Briton, from Liverpool on Wednesday, the 1st of June, passed Father Point at 5 o'clock this morning, and will reach this port to-night.

The steamship Niagara, from Boston via Halifax, arrived at Liverpool on the 29th of May.

The steamship Bavaria, from New York, arrived at Southampton on the 29th.

The steamship Anglo-Saxon, from Quebec, arrived at Liverpool on the morning of the 1st of June.

THE WAR.

The news from the seat of war is unimportant.

An official Sardinian bulletin says that the Sardinians passed the Sesia in the face of the Austrians, who were fortified at Palastro, after a severe conflict, and carried the place, making many prisoners.—The Sardinians were under the immediate command of King Victor Emanuel.

Garibaldi was making some bold movements in Lombardy. On the 27th, after a furious fight of three hours, he entered Como. The Austrians retreated at Cammeriatta, where the combat was renewed, and the Austrians again retreated towards Milan. All the steamers on the lake were in the hands of the patriots.

It was reported via Berne that on the 29th Garibaldi was defeated by a superior force and withdrew into the Canton Tessin, but this lacks confirmation, and Turin dispatches give the impression that he was making further progress.

The contents of the French bulletins are unimportant.

The Emperor was about to move his headquarters from Alessandria, and it was reported he would go to Casale.

The Austrians in considerable force had occupied Babbio.

It is reported in Paris that as soon as the French enter Milan, England and Prussia will make most strenuous efforts to end the war.

A fight had occurred at Florence between some English war sailors and some American sailors, on account of the latter wearing tri-color rosettes, but no details had been received.

The Emperor of Austria quitted Vienna on the 29th, arrived Verona on the 31st of May, accompanied by his brother, the Archduke Charles, General Hess and others.

Commencement at Chapel Hill.

The commencement exercises at the University of the State, which have just transpired, have been of the most interesting character. President Buchanan honored the occasion by his presence, and large numbers were in attendance from all parts of the state. The Address of D. K. McRae, Esq., is spoken of as being one of the best ever delivered before that institution—and the sermon of Dr. Doggett as most able and eloquent. We subjoin below the grade of scholarship in the Senior and Junior classes:—

In the Senior Class, the First honor to Messrs. Harris, G. B. Johnston, W. B. Lynch, and Stockton. The Second, to Messrs Croom, Eure, Ferguson, Fetter, Foster, Gaines, Gill, B. Green, J. C. Green, McClanny, Nixon, F. C. Robbins, J. L. Robbins, and Withers. The Third to Messrs Marrow, Pillow, Rogers, Sillers, Webb, and Woodburn. Messrs Fetter, and McClammy were counted as not absent from any of the 4700 attendances on scholastic and religous exercises required required during their four years course. Mr. Isler was neqer absent during his three years connection with the University. Messrs. F. C. Robbins, J. L. Robbins, Gill, and Roberts, were honorably mentioned as having been remarkably punctual in attending their College duties. Messrs Badgett, Ballard, Bustin, Coffin, Croom, Daniel, Dixon, Eure, Ferguson, Fleming, Gatling, Harris, Nixon, Riddick, Rogers, J. Somerville, Walton, and Withers had also exhibited praiseworthy punctuality.

In the Junior Class, the First honor was assigned to Messrs. Pool, Royster, Strong, Wilson, and Wooster. The Second to Messrs. Battle, Bond, Brooks, Bryan, Cooper, Daniel, Fain, Franklin, Hale, Headen, Kelly, King, Rial, Scales, and Weir. The Third to Messrs. Anderson, Borden, Fogle, Graham, Hardin, E. Martin, and Thorp. Eight members of this Class were disapproved in Chemistry, and one in the Bible. Messrs. Battle, Kelly and Thorp were counted as never absent during the three years of their college course. Messrs. Barbee, R. Cooper, Mimms, Strong, Nicholson, Baird, Franklin, Barrett, Bond, Borden, Brooks, Cherry, Daniel, Fain, Fogle, Pool, Rial, Royster, and Wilson were also commended for punctuality.

The Valedictory was delivered by Mr. GEORGE B. JOHNSTON, of Edenton.

The Honorary Degree of Master of Arts was conferred on the Hon. R. R. Heath, Judge of the Superior Court of North Carolina.

The Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on His Excellency James Buchanan, President of the United States of America, on the Hon. Mitchell King, of Charleston, S. C. and on the Rt. Rev. James H. Otey, Bishop, of Tennessee.—E. City State.

A RIGHTEOUS DECISION.

We have hope for the perpetuation of the Union whenever we see men act strictly up to the letter of the CONSTITUTION. It is true that there are many fanatics among us, but so long as North and South stand true to their country and abandoning platforms, point to the Federal Constitution as the bond of Union, no disorganizing spirit can hurt the harmony and concord of North, South, East, and West. The laws of the United States cannot be nullified by fanatics so long as men of sense are their administrators.

An exchange says:—Upon a writ of habeas corpus granted by Jude Scott, of the Supreme Court, at Ohio, the bodies of Bushnell and Langston' two of the Oberlin rescuers, under sentence of the United States Court at Cleaveland, were produced before the Supreme Court, at Columbus, on Wednesday of last week. A similar application upon the Sheriff of Hamilton county, for the body of Reuben Johnston, was refused; the Sheriff, although a Republican, preferring to obey the laws of his country rather than the demands of excited politicians.

On Monday, as already been announced by telegraph, Judge Swan delivered the opinion of the majority of the Court remanding the prisoners, Bushnell, ond Langston, to the jail of Cuyahoga county. Judges Brinkerhoff and Sutliff delivered dissenting opinions.

The following is a syllabus of the opinions of Chief Justice Swan, and Justices Scott, and Peck.

Judges Swan, Scott and Peck held:

I. That the provisions of Act, 4, Sec. 2, of the Constitution of the United States: "No person held to service or labor in one State under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered upon claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due," guarantee to the owner of an escaped slave the right of reclamation.

II. That a citizen, who, knowingly and intentionally interferes with, for the purpose of rescue or rescues from the owner an escaped slave, is guilty of a violation of the Constitution of the United States, whether the acts of 1793 and 1850, commonly called the fugitive slave laws, are unconstitutional or not.

III. That the question in this case is, not whether the fugitive act of 1850 is unconstitutional in respect to the appointment and powers of commissioners, the allowance of a writ of habeas corpus, the mode of reclamation, &c., but whether Congress has any power to pass any law whatever, however just and proper in its provisions for the reclamation of slaves, or to protect the owner of an escaped slave from interference, when duly asserting his constitutional rights of reclamation.

IV. That Congress, from the earliest period of the government, has by legislative penalties, vindicated the constitutional rights of the owner or slaves against unlawful interference.

V. That such legislation was adopted in 1793 by the second Congress elected under the Constitution, composed of many of the members of the Convention who framed the Constitution, has from that day to this, been in active operation, and has from that day to this, been acquiesced in by all departments of the government, national and State; and the legislative power of Congress on this subject has been recognized by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio in their statutes; by the Supreme Court of the United States, and by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, California; by the Supreme Court of Ohio on the circuit, and, indeed, by the Supreme Courts of every State in the Union where the question has been made, and has never been denied by the Supreme Court of any State—the Courts of Wisconsin, notwithstanding the popular inpression, not forming an exception.

VI. The right to recue escaped slave from their owners being denied to all citizens of the United States by the Constitution; Congress having prohibited it and enforced the prohibition by penalties; the Supreme courts of the United States and Courts of the free States having recognized and acquiesced in such legislative prohibition and punishment, if the question is not thus put beyond the the reach of the private personal views of judges, and if they posess judical discretion or power to overrule on the authority of their individual opinions this unbroked current of decisions and this acquiescence of the States of the Union, and change the settled interpretation of the Constitution of the United States; then there is no limit, and no restraint upon judges making at any time, and under any circumstances, their own individual opinions, the arbitrary interpreters of the Constitution.

VII. Wherefore differences of opinion may now exist in the public mind, as to the power of Congress to punish rescuers as provided in the acts of 17 93 and 1850, no such vital blow the is given either to constitutional rights or State sovereignty by Congress thus enacting a law to punish a violation of the Constitution of the United States as to demand of this Court the Organization of resistance. If, after more than sixty years of acquiescence by all departments of the national and State governments, in the power of Congress to provide for the punishment of rescuers of escaped slaves, that power is to be disregarded, and all the laws which may be passed by Congress on this subject from henceforth are to be persistently resisted and nullified, the work of revolution should not be begun by the conservators of the public peace.—Pittsburgh Post.

BATTLE WITH THE CAMANCHES.—As has already been mentioned, says the Boston Courier, our troops in Texas under Major Van Dorn have made another very successful scout, and gained a complete and decisive victory over the Camanche Indians. We have been permitted to copy from a private letter of an officer of Major Van Dorns Regiment, (2d cavalry,) and a participant in the scout, the following interesting particulars. The letter is dated in camp, on Big Turtle Creek, May 14:

"After travelling about two hundred miles we have at last come up with the Cammanches and yesterday evening we attacked them in camp. The fight lasted about an hour and was a severe one. We found the Indians encamped in a thick and almost impenetrable jungle, so that we were compelled to attack them at great disadvantage on foot. There were 85 Indians in the band. Three only escaped unhurt. Forty-nine were killed and 33 captured, several of whom wounded. We deeply regretted that either women and children were among the killed and wounded. This happened in consequence of the undergrowth being so thick that it was impossible to distinguish the squaws from the men. Lieut. Lee was badly wounded, but it is hoped that he will soon recover. Capt. Smith also was severely but not dangerously wounded. One man was killed instantly, and ten others more or less severely wounded, one or two of whom I think will die. It is the most extensive scout that has been in Texas, and it will no doubt prove more effectual intimidating the Camanches than Major Van Dorn's previous fight. It will teach them that a hundred miles or so beyond the usual limits of scouts from Texas will not prove a sanctuary."

A letter from Camp, near Arkansas, dated May 14th, 1859—informs the friends of Lieut, Lee, who was recently wounded in an engagement with the Camanche Indians, that he (Lieut. Fitzough Lee, son of Captain S. S. Lee, U. S. N.,) was shot with an arrow whilst gallantly leading in the thickest of the fight, and though severely wounded, is regarded by the Surgeon as not in danger.

The letter adds that the detatchment will return by slow marches to its post.

Forty-nine Camanche Indians were killed, and thirty-six of them taken prisoners, in this engagement

INVESTIGATION OF FORGERY

Boston, June 3.— The Govermemt Commissioners that were sent to Salem to investigate an alleged forgery of six hundred names to a petition for the appointment of Dr. Loring as Collector of Salem, report the forgery clearly proved. Mr. Pike the present Collector, has been summoned to Washington. It is rumored that additional rich developements are to grow out of this investigation.

We learn from the Portsmouth Transcript that the warehouse of Mr. H. V. Neimyer, of that place, was destroyed by fire, together with its contents, consisting of lime, guano, cement, &c., on Monday morning. It is supposed to save been the work of an incendiary. Inhured.

FIRE IN PLYMOUTH.—We learn that a disastrous fire occurred in Plymouth on Tuesday night last. Five or six stores were consumed by the flames. We have not learned the amount lost.

NOTICE PARTICULAR !!

To my friends and the public in general I give
The following offers, that they may all live :
I'll buy all they bring of the list down lower
And pay them in goods, right out of my store ;
I'll buy all the eggs your poultry can lay,
Or as many as you please, just as you say ;
I'll buy all the bones of dead cattle and hogs,
And to finish the bargain, likewise the dogs ;
I'll take all the bones you can find in the woods,
Such as cow, horse and sheep if you'll take pay in goods;
I'll take all the dry Hides of anything dead,
Mule hides and horse hides, black. white or red;
All these hides, if green, I also will buy,
And horse main and tail, if they be well dry.
I want all the moss, that grows on the trees,
So dry it and bring it as soon as you please,
Bring all the old Jaw Bones of horse, cow or sheep,
And take pay in goods, which I sell very cheap.
I'll buy all the HORNS, you can bring me to sell,
And all the old TEETH, that's doing very well.
I want all the rags you can spare, let me see,
Woolen, Linen or cotton will answer for me,
For flannels and broadcloths that's gnawed by the mice
I'll trade you for goods at a very low price.
I buy all old Iron, and take it in lots,
Such as plows, hoes and chains, kettles and Pots.
Attend to this notice, and to cheer your fond hopes,
I'll wind up my song and buy your old Ropes.

JOHN O'KELLEY, Agent for M. KELLEY.

E. City, Ap. 26, 1859.

P. S. In order to pay up my various bills,
I offer for sale a great number of sills;
I've pine, oak and cypress, also some good shingles,
Or any thing else, when the money all jingles.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.—THE subscriber offers for sale his FARM situated in Craven County, on lower Broad and Orchard Creeks, near Neuse River, seven miles from the town of Jackson, containing 2500 acres, more or less, several hundred of which are prime Swamp Land, about 200 acres cleared, the remainder in woods, which is excellent timber, suitable for building or ship purposes.— There are about 100 acres ditched, deadened, under-bushed and the cord wood cut; a small amount of labor would prepare it for cultivation. There are also two crops of Turpentine Boxes on it.

The Land is well adapted to Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Potatoes, &c., and is highly susceptible of improvement. The facilities for shipping are rarely equalled.

The improvements consist of a fine large Dwelling, Kitchen, Smoke-House, Gin-House, Barns, Stables, and Negro Houses sufficient to accommodate Fifty Negroes, together with all other necessary out-buildings, in good order. The Garden and Orchard abound in a great variety of the choicest Fruits, viz: Grapes, Figs, Rasp berries, Strawberries, Cherries, Apples, Pears and Peaches. Oysters and Fish may be taken in abundance from the creek at the back of the garden, and Wild Fowl, in great variety, abound in the vicinity — There is also a good mill site, with dam already constructed on the place. There is a good well of water in the yard.

The premises have the reputation of being healthy and the situation is desirable, and my only object in desiring to sell is the fact that I intend to quit farming.

Persons wishing to buy can apply to me on the premises, or to J. Gooding, sr., at Newbern.

VICKERY & COMPANY,

LEADERS AND INTRODUCERS OF every thing that is new and useful in the STATIONERY LINE!

MESSRS. VICKERY & COMPANY would inform the Public that they are prepared to furnish every article in their line at lower prices than ever. Having lately gone to great expense in fitting up in the handsomest style their store, would cordially invite every one to call and examine their stock, (which is now the largest in this section of country,) before purchasing elsewhere, feeling confident that they will there find what cannot be found in any other establishment in this City.

STRANGERS

visiting our City will please not overlook this notice, as they can find here the most beautiful articles for Bridal or Birthday presents, or in fact any article in the fancy goods line.

FOR SALE OR RENT.

The undersigned, being desirous to remove to some other locality, and having closed his business for that purpose, offers his Store house, 34 by 18 feet, and warehouse attached, at Nag's Head, for sale or rent on very reasonable terms. The stand for Mercantile business is well known to all the vicinity, and there is no place like it for fine and fancy goods—being the only one at the place fitted up for that business.

The house is cieled, plastered over head, &c. At a small expense it could be made an excellent Summer house for a family desiring to visit the place during the Summer. There is a wharf belonging to it, 100 yards long, well adapted for landing of small boats. Apply to

THE WEEKLY STATES,
PUBLISHED BY
PRYOR & HEISS,
AT
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Subscription price - - - - $1 00 per year.

With the veiw of securing the largest possible circulation among the masses of the people, the proprietors of THE STATES have determined to reduce the price of the Weekly paper to

ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM.

THE STATES will be conducted with an exclusive regard to the principles of the State-rights Democracy, will be independent of factions, and unbiassed by partial interests—in short, will continue on the line it has pursued under its present management. We presume it has given a sufficient exemplification of its principles and objects to dispense with the necessity of any formal professions.

Located at the Federal Capital, THE STATES has great advantages over other journals in procuring important and valuabe information relating to the affairs of government. Its central position also enables it to procure at the earliest moment the latest foreign and dometic news, and in its columns will always be found matters of interest appertaining to Literature, Agriculture, and Commerce

The price of subscription is fixed so low, that it brings the paper within the reach of every person who desires a good and reliable newspaper. We therefore appeal to our Democratic friends throughout the country to aid us in securing THE STATES an extended circulation.

To those who will take the trouble of getting us up a club of ten subscribers, at the rate of ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR for each subscriber, we will send a copy of the WEEKLY STATES for one year gratis.

Payments in all cases required in advance.

Current money in the different States received in payment for subscriptions.

All letters should be addressed to

PRYOR & HEISS.

THE DAILY & SEMI-WEEKLY STATES

Are published at the following rates :

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.
DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.
BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.
HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.
SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.
DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

HISTORY OF NORTH CAROLINA

THE 2d volume is now published. It embraces the period of the Proprietary Government, from 1663 to 1729.

It forms a handsome 8vo. volume of 591 pages. The subscription price was half a cent a page; but the price of this volume is less, say $2 75 in cloth binding, $3 in Library sheep, and $3 25 in half calf. IT WILL BE SOLD ONLY FOR CASH.

Owing to the difficulty of securing Agents in many parts of the State, we will forward it by mail or otherwise free of postage, on receipt of the price; or both volumes for $4 cloth, $4 50 sheep, or $5 half calf.

A liberal discount made to Agents, or others, who buy to sell again.

THE CITY OF THE GREAT KING;

OR JERUSALEM AS IT WAS, AS IT IS, & AS IT IS TO BE.

BY DR. J. T. BARCLAY, Late Missionary to Jerusalem. With a Steel Portrait of the Author by Sartain. Also Chromographic Illuminations in ten oil colors, Periscopic Panorama of the entire Circuit of the City and Environs, explanatory Maps, &c., by Rosenthal. Steel Engravings by Sartain, J C. Buttre, Dick and Earle. Finest Wood Engravings by Loudcrback & Hoffman and J. H. Byram.

The Engravings will be executed in the highest style of art, from Photographs and original designs illustrating the various phases of the City,—

ANCIENT, MEDIEVAL, MODERN AND MILLENNIAL,

Also, Restoration of the Temple and City as invested by Titus.—Notices of its Jewish, Christian, and Heathen Antiquities—Its Present Political and Moral Condition—Future Prospects, &c.

This work is the result of investigations made during three and a half years' residence in the Holy City, with facilities for prosecuting researches never heretofore enjoyed. It was undertaken with special reference to the elucidation of the Holy Scriptures, the Talmud, the Works of Josephus, the Crusaders, and Pilgrim Chroniclers. The many valuable discoveries made in the Temple Enclosure, and other sacred localities, to which Dr. Barclay was admitted by special Firman, with permission to explore those hallowed spots, so jealously guarded for many centuries, and now for the first time presented to the Christian public, will introduce a new era in Sacred Topography.

WHOLESAL AND RETAIL.

W. P. GRIFFITH, having dissolved his connection with the firm of Vickery & Griffith, would respectfully inform the citizens of Elizabeth City and of the surrounding country, that he has opened at the store formerly occupied by the late Mr. R. C. Barclay,

The largest and best stock of Books and Stationery ever offered for sale in the City of Norfolk.

Believing that the wants and the tastes of the people required one establishment similar to those found in the large Northern cities, where a full and general assortment of Books can be obtained, the subscriber has been induced, during a recent visit to Philadelphia, New York and Boston, to purchase from the principal publishers, and at the great "Trade Sales," a superior stock of

School, Classical, Law, Medical, Theological, Religious and Miscellaneous

BOOKS.

Which will, upon examination, compare with any to be found in the Southern country.

My Stock of Foreign and American

STATIONERY.

MY WHOLE STOCK IS ENTIRELY —NEW.—

and has been bought upon the very best terms and a large portion for cash, which gives me a decided advantage over all other houses in the city, and will enable me to sell my goods at prices far below former rates.

Booksellers in this and adjacent Towns and Country Merchants, will find it greatly to their advantage to examine my stock before going North.

Colleges, Schools and Teachers, will be supplied at Northern prices.

By special arrangements with the following houses, I shall receive their new Books as they are issued from the Press, and will supply any or all of their publications at their prices:

A VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE
IN NORFOLK CO., VA.

IT lies on the Dismal Swamp Canal, about 7 miles from Deep Creek and 14 from Norfolk, and contains from 1200 to 1500 acres, about 150 to 200 of which are now in arable order, the balance in original forest.

The soil is adapted to the production of Indian corn and other crops usually cultivated in that section. About 5 or 600 acres of the tract would make as fine a farm as any in Eastern Virginia; adjoining lands of similar quality unimproved, have produced from 14 to 15 barrels of corn per acre, and the wood and timber on the land would pay every expense of clearing, when it would be worth $50 per acre.

It presents, also, great facilities for carrying on the wood business. Immense quantities of the best quality could be sold at paying prices at Norfolk or on the Canal bank, along which the land stretches for several miles. The facilities of water carriage would also render the trucking business profitable.

There is a large Juniper swamp on the tract, valuable for its rail and shingle timber.

The pasturage and range for Stock is unsurpassed. A free School is within one mile of the dwelling. Persons desirous of purchasing are referred to Messrs. George T. Wallace and John West, who live near the place, and to Mr. Benjamin T. Tatem, near Norfolk, who will take pleasure in showing the land.

For further information and terms, which will be liberal, apply to

JOSEPH T. TATEM.

INFIRMARY FOR SLAVES
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

THE SUBSCRIBER has opened at the Marine Hospital (in a separate building) an INFIRMARY FOR INVALID SLAVES. He has ample accommodations for a limited number, and will give them his careful attention—supplying them with every necessary their case requires. An Institution of this kind offers many advantages to masters having servants afflicted with chronic or surgical diseases. And, from its economy, they are relieved of the expense and annoyance of having such upon a plantation.

The charges for Board, Medical attendance, Nursing, and Medicine, are $6 per week, payable upon the removal of the patient.

In cases requiring a surgical operation, in addition to the above rates, a fee varying from $2 to $30, in different cases, will be charged for the operation, the particulars of which may be ascertained upon application at the Infirmary.

The services of any other regular Physician will be allowed, at the expense of the master.

Persons in the country desiring to send patients to the Infirmary, or obtain information concerning it, may address the subscriber.

☞ No contagious diseases admitted.

℞ AYER'S
Cathartic P[ills]
(SUGAR COATED)
ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE TH[E SICK.]

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Phy[sicians,] Philanthropists, read their E[ffects,] and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul S[tomach.]

PITTSBURG, PA., May [...]

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly [...] the worst headache any body can have by a [...] of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul s[tomach, which] they cleanse at once. If they will cure others [as they do] me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. P[REBLE,] Clerk of Steamer [...]

Bilious Disorders and Liver Co[mplaints.]

DEPARTMENT OF THE I[NTERIOR,] WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 F[eb...]

SIR: I have used your Pills in my [general] practice ever since you made them, and cannot [hesitate to] say they are the best cathartic we employ. [Their regu]lating action on the liver is quick and decided, [consequent]ly they are an admirable remedy for derange[ments of that] organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case [...] case so obstinate that it did not readily yield [...]

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BA[LL,] Physician of the M[arine Hospital.]

Dysentery, Relax, and W[orms.]

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., [...]

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection [of medicine.] They have done my wife more good than I [can tell you.] She had been sick and pining away for m[onths. Went] off to be doctored at great expense, but got [no better. She] then commenced taking your Pills, which [soon cured her,] by expelling large quantities of worms (d[ead) from her] body. They afterwards cured her and our [two children] of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors h[ad it bad, and] my wife cured him with two doses of y[our Pills, while] others around us paid from five to twenty [dollars doctors'] bills, and lost much time, without bei[ng cured] even then. Such a medicine as yours, whic[h is actually] good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, P[ostmaster.]

Indigestion and Impurity of th[e Blood.]

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Ch[urch,] [...]

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with [extraordinary] success in my family and among those I am [called to visit] in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion [and puri]fy the blood they are the very best remedy I [have ever] known, and I can confidently recommend th[em to my] friends. Yours, J. V. H[IMES.]

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N.Y., Oct. [...]

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills [in my prac]tice, and find them an excellent purgative [to cleanse the] system and purify the fountains of the blood.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, [...]

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of [all that is] great in medicine. They have cured my little [daughter] of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that [had proved] incurable for years. Her mother had been [long grievous]ly afflicted with blotches and pimples on her [skin and in] her hair. After our child was cured, she also [tried your] Pills, and they have cured her. Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and G[out.]

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epi[scopal Church.]

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan[...]

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the [relief your] skill has brought me if I did not report my ca[se to you.] A cold settled in my limbs and brought on ex[cruciating] neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rhe[umatism.] Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the [disease] grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of [your excel]lent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried [your Pills.] Their effects were slow, but sure. By persever[ing in the] use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec. [...]

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your [Pills of] Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had aff[licted me] for years. VINCENT SL[IDELL.]

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred [Com]plaints, requiring an active purge, they are [an excel]lent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and e[ffectual.]

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inf[lamma]tion, and even Deafness, and Partial [Blind]ness, have been cured by the alterative ac[tion of these] Pills.

Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, [which, al]though a valuable remedy in skilful hands, [is dangerous] in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences [that fre]quently follow its incautious use. These con[tain no mer]cury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECT[ORAL]

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, [INFLU]ENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOO[PING] COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, [IN]CIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients [in advanced] stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of [its virtues.] Throughout every town, and almost every [hamlet of the] American States, its wonderful cures of pu[lmonary com]plaints have made it already known. Nay, [few are the] families in any civilized country on this cont[inent with]out some personal experience of its effects; and [fewer yet] the communities any where which have not am[ong them] some living trophy of its victory over the subtle [and dan]gerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While [it is the] most powerful antidote yet known to man for [the formi]dable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary [organs, it] is also the pleasantest and safest remedy tha[t can be em]ployed for infants and young persons. [Parents should] have it in store against the insidious enemy [that steals] upon them unprepared. We have abundant [grounds to] believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives [by the con]sumptions it prevents than those it cures. [Keep it by] you, and cure your colds while they are curable, [nor neg]lect them until no human skill can master the [inexorable] canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your [life away.] All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, [and as] they know too the virtues of this remedy, we [need not do] more than to assure them it is still made the [best it can] be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce [it the] most perfect possible, and thus afford those who [rely on] it the best agent which our skill can furnish for [their cure.]

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AY[ER,]

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Low[ell, Mass.]

AND SOLD BY

Dr. J. N. Burr, and Wilkinson & [...], Elizabeth City, and by Druggists and Me[rchants ge]nerally throughout the civilized world.

HOWARD ASSOCIAT[ION,]

PHILADELPHIA.

*A Benevolent Institution established by special en*dowment, for the relief of the sick and [distressed,] afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic dis[eases.]

THE HOWARD ASSOCIATION, [in view of] the awful destruction of human [life caused] by Sexual diseases, several years [ago directed] their Consulting Surgeon to open a [dispensary] for the treatment of this class of disease, [in all] their forms, and to give MEDICAL [ADVICE] GRATIS to all who apply by letter, [with a de]scription of their condition (age, oc[cupation,] habits of life, &c.) and in case of [extreme pov]erty, to FURNISH MEDICINES F[REE OF] CHARGE.

The Directors of the Association, [in their] late Annual Report express the highest [satisfac]tion with the success which has atte[nded the] labors of their Surgeons in the cure [of Sperm]atorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Go[norrhœa,] Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism [or Self] Abuse, Diseases of the Kidneys and [Bladder,] &c., and order a continuance of the [same plan] for the ensuing year.

An admirable Report on Sperma[torrhœa or] Seminal Weakness, the vice of Ona[nism, Mas]turbation, or Self-Abuse, and other [diseases of] the Sexual organs, by the Consulting [Surgeon,] will be sent by mail (in a sealed [envelope,]) FREE OF CHARGE, on receipt [of two] STAMPS for postage.
